VI. Scholarships

Jiangxi Normal University is a host institution of the Chinese Government Scholarship, the International Chinese Language Teachers Scholarship and the Jiangxi Provincial Government Scholarship. At university level, JXNU also provides scholarships for international students.

The Chinese Government Scholarship is mainly divided into Category A and Category B, with differences in application procedures and eligibility.

Applicants for Category A should consult the designated student admission authorities in their home country for relevant information and submit their scholarship applications as required.

Category B scholarship is only available for master's or doctoral program candidates.

The Jiangxi Provincial Government Scholarship and the Jiangxi Normal University Scholarship for International Students are generally open to self-financed doctoral, master's, and bachelor's degree students. Applicants must apply after enrollment, starting in October each year.
